

Construction site manager for assembly | Master carpenter (m|f|d)

Grossenlüder, Germany

As a leading company in the wood industry as well as in wood and silo construction, Blumer Lehmann uses the diverse potential of wood innovatively and in a sustainable value creation cycle. Our employees are committed to a wide range of customer projects at the headquarters in Gossau SG, at locations in Switzerland, Germany and Luxembourg and around the world.

Your tasks

- Together with your team, you will carry out our unusual carpentry work on construction sites in Germany and Luxembourg; such as the assembly of residential, industrial and modular buildings as well as interesting special buildings
- You organize the processes and work on our construction sites together with the project management and the assembly team management
- With your extensive specialist knowledge and drive, you lead your team competently and motivatingly
- You also actively help with the assembly work yourself
- You communicate regularly with the project management to ensure that everything goes according to plan

Your skills and experience

You have completed training as a carpenter and have trained to become a master craftsman. You will use your valuable professional and leadership experience in a targeted manner. We look forward to your communicative, reliable and team-oriented personality.

We offer

We offer you a varied and interesting job in a successful and future-oriented company. In a safe working environment you can contribute and develop yourself further. We maintain an appreciative relationship and the necessary sense of humor at work must not be missing. A supportive and collegial team awaits you.

We look forward to hearing from you. Get in touch easily with a "short application". Of course, you can also submit your application documents using our online application form.

We look forward to receiving your application documents via our homepage.
